

The Invitation

Written by Lorraine Troy

Illustrated by Maureen Murugi Teresa Smith

This book was conceived and written by
Lorraine Troy

Illustrations by Maureen Murugi Teresa Smith
Copyright ©2018

All rights reserved. No part of this publication may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means, electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise, without the prior written permission of the author.

Published by Kind Kid Publications
KindKidPublications@gmail.com

Atti was at the window again today waiting for Mr. Chris the mailman. She is so excited! Today her dream will come true.

Atti has been looking out of the window everyday looking for her invitation to the Teddy Bear Tea Party.

Atti's mother, Mrs. Kissey, helped her count the days on the kitchen calendar that were left before the next Teddy Bear Tea Party.

JUNE 2016
20 21 22 23 24 25

There were only five days left before the big day and Atti still had not received her invitation.

Atti just knows that she will get an invitation to the party this year. After all you have to be six years old to go and she just had her sixth birthday last week.

Atti has been wanting an invitation since she was three years old. You see her big sister, Nicole who is nine, has been going to the tea party for three years.

Every year Atti watched Nicole and her Teddy Bear Spencer get all dressed up for the tea party.

She ran into the living room. “Yes Mommy! Hello, Mrs. Brunch!” Atti’s mother was holding an envelope in her hand. Atti couldn’t believe her eyes! It was finally here, her INVITATION...addressed to Princess Atti.

Atti’s invitation had been left at Mrs. Brunch’s house by mistake two weeks ago. Mrs. Brunch had been on vacation and had just returned home. Atti was so happy she hugged her mother, Mrs. Brunch and her big sister Nicole.

